

Historical Village of Telegraph Cove

Each of the cabins along the boardwalk carries with them a piece of history, and their own distinct story to tell. By viewing or staying in one of these homey cabins, one can experience the heritage and natural beauty of Telegraph Cove. The exteriors of the cabins have been maintained and restored to appear as they would have when they were first constructed, maintaining the integrity of the cove. The type of accommodation varies throughout the cabins. They range from having modern to rustic interiors and sleep anywhere from 2 to 9 people.

Ask the office staff for more information, or to view the cabins (if available).
